

Ultrasound Abdomen – Basics, Tips n Tricks

10th and 11th of May 2019 Anatomiegebouw, Utrecht

This training program is designed for veterinarians who wish to perform abdominal ultrasonographic examination in small animal practice. The objectives of the program are to provide participants with a basic knowledge of ultrasound image formation and current technology and to perform routine abdominal ultrasonographic examination in dogs and cats.

The program is based on a mixture of formal teaching and wet labs in small groups of 4-5 participants with live animals and ultrasound machines. Main indications, normal and abnormal findings in common situations are outlined and discussed. The aim of the program is to give participants enough knowledge and practical information to perform abdominal ultrasonography in common clinical situation. A great opportunity to pick up the techniques of a basic abdominal ultrasound examination in a one-on-one situation!

Course Date: 10th of May 09:00 – 17:00, followed by borrel
11th of May 09:00 - 16:30

Course Master: Dr. Beate Bosch
Diplomate ECVDI
Small Animal Specialist Ravensburg

Instructors:

Pamela di Donato
Resident ECVDI
Universitaet Giessen

Ines Schellhoff
Small Animal Ultrasonographer
Dierenecho Flex

Lokation: Anatomiegebouw
Bekkerstraat 141
3572 SG Utrecht

ATF: approximately 12 hours

Tuition Fee: until 10th of April 2019 875,-€ ex BTW*
after 10th of April 2019 925,- € ex BTW*

* 10% discount of the price for our scil-clients

* 20,- Euro discount for bringing a dog for the practical sessions